Helen Cooke "Tough Times – looking at the life of Job as his friendship with God was put to the test."

Helen Cooke was born in Dundee, Scotland. She trained as an Occupational Therapist and practised in orthopaedic and psychiatric hospitals. Helen and Nigel have been married for fifty eight years, and they have three adult daughters and four grandchildren. They have always had extended family living with them, and over the years several dysfunctional families. Her mother lived with them for 15 years until her death at the age of 96.

Helen served as National President of Activate, formerly Christian Viewpoint, which resources and encourages Christian women to influence their community for Christ. She has taught the Bible at women's conferences in Britain, Australia and New Zealand, and still feels passionate about God's word. Helen was for ten years, on the Council of the Keswick Convention, regularly speaking at Word Alive / Spring Harvest.

Locally, Helen is a keen participant in Bible Study, music and reading groups aimed mainly at seniors. She encourages Christian women to be who they are, where they are for God, using all possible opportunities for the Gospel. Her great loves in her spare time are hospitality, charity shops, gardening, mending, reading and Switzerland.
